

More about me...

My name is Francisco Lopez-Morelos, I'm a student at the California State University of Long Beach and I'm looking to get my major in Computer Science. Something that interests me quite a lot right now is Front-end Web and Mobile App Development but as of right now, Web Development is my priority.

Throughout my time in school, I've learned many things and worked with programming languages like C++ and Python. However, in order to pursue Web Development I've learned HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and TypeScript. I'm always trying to learn new things and I've been enjoying the process. My goal is to be able to confidently think, create, and launch websites and mobile applications on my own. I really enjoy the process of making something new along with the creativity that lets me add my own ideas to the project.

Something more about myself is that I really enjoy gaming, watching films, and watching sports. I enjoy watching soccer/football and my favorite team is FC Barcelona, although the team isn't in one of its best moments right now. I've also really enjoyed watching the Dodgers this season(2024) and I'm trying to get into Tennis.

I would like to say thank you for taking the time to navigate my website and learn a couple of things about myself. Feel free to look at everything on my website and don't hesitate to reach out to me to collaborate, for feedback, or even to simply talk about programming. Please feel free to reach me via email: franciscolopezmorelos@gmail.com. I'm looking forward to always learning and I'll try to keep working towards improving my skills and growing in the web development and mobile app development field.
